EVENT HONOREE: HDBUZZ

HDBuzz is the first internet portal for the rapid dissemination of high-quality Huntington's disease (HD) research news to the global community, written in plain language, by HD clinicians and scientists. It covers laboratory and clinical research, with the aim of helping HD people to understand the latest HD science, on their own terms.

Editors-in-chief

Dr Jeff Carroll, PhD. Boston, USA

Jeff Carroll is an Assistant Professor in the Behavioral Neuroscience Program and the Department of Psychology at Western Washington University. His scientific interest is in the understanding the systemic effects of Huntington's Disease, especially metabolic changes, which he studies using a mouse "knock-in" model of Huntington's Disease. He also has an interest in gene silencing approaches to HD therapeutics, particularly using antisense oligonucleotides (ASOs). Jeff's PhD and postdoctoral studies all involved using mouse models to understand basic mechanisms of HD and preclinical testing of therapeutic interventions in these models. During his PhD he trained with Michael Hayden (UBC), his postdoctoral studies were conducted under the supervision of Marcy MacDonald (MGH, Harvard Medical School). As well as conducting research, Jeff is a member of an HD family and himself carries the mutation which causes the disease.

ABOUT HUNTINGTON'S DISEASE

Huntington's disease (HD) is a fatal genetic disorder that causes the progressive breakdown of nerve cells in the brain. It deteriorates a person's physical and mental abilities during their prime working years.

The symptoms of HD can vary a lot from person to person, but they usually include: personality changes, mood swings & depression, forgetfulness & impaired judgment, unsteady gait & involuntary movements (chorea), slurred speech, difficulty in swallowing & significant weight loss.

The symptoms of HD are sometimes described as having ALS, Parkinson's and Alzheimer's – simultaneously.

There are roughly 41,000 symptomatic and more than 200,000 people at-risk of inheriting the disease in the US.

Every child of a parent with HD has a 50/50 chance of inheriting the expanded gene that causes the disease. If the child has not inherited this expanded gene, he or she will never develop the disease and cannot pass it on to their children.

There is no cure... yet.

OUR VISION IS A WORLD FREE OF HD

The Huntington's Disease Society of America (HDSA) is the premier nonprofit organization dedicated to improving the lives of everyone affected by Huntington's disease.

HOW YOUR GIFT WILL HELP

- ✔ Funding for lab costs for scientists researching HD through our HD Human Biology Project, which support patient-focused research to develop effective HD treatments and cures.
- ✔ Funding for social worker led support groups
- ✔ Provide funding for the HDSA Center of Excellence, which provide families with access to multi-disciplinary teams including neurologists, dieticians, physical therapists, and speech pathologists.

Our Mission: To improve the lives of everyone affected by Huntington's disease and their families.

OUR STORY: SHINE A LIGHT ON HD

The Shine a Light on HD dinner series was created by our Los Angeles board member, Kristy Benner.

After losing her grandfather and aunt to HD she wanted to help her family and others living with the terrible disease. With her passion for a good time, good food, and good wine; Shine a Light on HD was born. The first event, the Celebration of Hope gala was in 2018. In 2019, Kristy planned a series of three intimate pop up dinners around Los Angeles, featuring local chefs. 2021 HDSA LA fundraising efforts was kicked off with a virtual dinner and wine party.

Since the beginning in 2018, Kristy has since sadly lost another aunt to this devastating disease and has other family members struggling with various stages of HD.

It is her hope that we can bring awareness and raise enough funds to put an end to Huntington's Disease. Pour yourself a glass, and let's toast to your help finding a CURE!
